The Legend of Johnny Bright — Drake's Greatest Football Player

Johnny Bright is considered one of greatest athletes ever to have played in Iowa.

Bright set 20 school records at Drake in football, basketball and track from 1949-51. His running and passing wizardry enabled him to lead the NCAA in total offense in 1949 and again in 1950, setting an NCAA record of 2,400 yards in 1950 for a per-game average of 266.7 which also was an NCAA record. He also set an NCAA career total offense record of 5,983 yards.

The Fort Wayne, Ind., native finished fifth in balloting for the 1951 Heisman Trophy, while also playing in the East-West Shrine All-Star Game and Hula Bowl.

Drafted No. 1 by the Philadelphia Eagles, Bright elected to play in the Canadian Football League in 1952 with the Calgary Stampeders, playing quarterback two seasons before moving to Edmonton where he led the Eskimos to the Grey Cup championship in 1954, 1955 and 1956. He retired in 1963 as the Eskimos leading rusher with 9,966 yards. Bright was inducted into the Canadian Football League Hall of Fame.

In celebration of the centennial of collegiate football in 1969, Bright was named as the top Drake football player of all time. He is the only Drake football player inducted into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame, being recognized in 1984. He died Dec. 14, 1983.
